City Ignoring Phone Overcharges?

A Calabasas company named Cost/Benefit Corp., which was hired by the city of Los Angeles to audit cell phone bills, claims Los Angeles Mayor Eric Garcetti and City Attorney Mike Feuer failed to take action after finding out the city was overcharged by about $12 million and could recover as much as $39 million from its phone providers, the Los Angeles Times reports. Instead, the company claims it has not been paid, so it is suing the city. The city intends to countersue.

Katy Perry vs. Local Restaurateur

The controversy that pits pop singer Katy Perry against local restaurateur Dana Hollister, who has a tentative deal to buy a hilltop Los Feliz convent from an order of nuns, is headed to a Los Angeles County Superior Court, the Los Angeles Times reports. The Archdiocese of Los Angeles is fighting the agreement, saying Hollister took advantage of the nuns, and it wants to sell to Perry. The dispute centers on who has the authority to actually sell the nunnery.
